Senior sign highlights festivities

Homecoming festivities were highlighted by the annual construction of the Senior Sign. Mr. Jerry Chiaramonte coordinated the sign committee.

The sign was designed by Carla Burt and consisted of three sides: the "ALHS" insignia, a silhouette of Abraham Lincoln, and a gridder to represent the football game.

Working headquarters were set up at the Fort. Many seniors spent their spare time putting the float together.

After completion of the float a potluck was held at MacRae Park for all seniors who helped build the sign.

A traditional caravan escorted the sign to school to be displayed on the front lawn and later that night at the Homecoming game.

Excitement turns to glory as Ayala, Heggen crowned

On the Monday preceding Homecoming week, nominations were submitted to comprise a list of approximately 40 candidates for each of the positions as king and queen. From this list each person voted for two candidates in each category narrowing the likely candidates to ten.

Making their final decision, the student body was forced to choose between Mark Ayala, Chuck Funaro, Doug Long, Jack Pulliam, and Bob Umdenstock for king and Darla Bradford, Debbie Carle, Diane Heggen, Cindy Hoff, and Cindy Osborn for queen.

Homecoming reflects spirit, tradition

Homecoming brought to an end several weeks of work spent in preparation by various groups. Activities included the Powder Puff game, senior sign, and decorating the field. The victory over Roosevelt and the Homecoming Dance highlighted the week's activities.

As tradition has required in years past, a powder puff football game was held with Pep Club taking on the Cheerleaders, Flags, Drill Team, and Batons. Pep Club's three-year winning streak was broken as the game ended in a 13-13 tie.

After several weeks of hard work, the seniors presented their sign to the school the day of the Homecoming game. Lincoln's silhouette, the ALHS emblem, and a football player punting.

Saturday night's Homecoming Dance completed the week's activities. Couples danced to music provided by the Gliders. The newly crowned king, Mark Ayala, and queen, Diane Heggen, and their court were also recognized.

Cheerleaders promote school spirit

Varsity Cheerleaders maintained their divided efforts as two squads in order to spread school spirit to more sports. Football cheerleaders supported varsity football, girls' swimming, wrestling, and girls' basketball. Cross country, boys' swimming, and boys' varsity basketball were represented by the basketball squad.

Twelve of the cheerleaders attended a DCA cheerleading camp at Storm Lake over the summer. New ideas for pep assemblies, fund raising, chants and cheers, routines, and promotion of school spirit were learned at camp. One of the routines was selected for the preseason scrimmage between the football team members.

Sophomores ignite team spirit

Spirit was well ignited by the sophomore cheerleaders at all school activities. The cheerleaders were chosen from various southside junior highs last spring.

During the summer they attended practices and worked hard learning new cheers. They participated in different activities to raise money for their new uniforms. The uniforms were purchased and worn with great pride.

The Matmaids had many responsibilities. Among the Matmaid's duties throughout the season were putting up posters, making programs, announcing line-ups, decorating locker rooms, tagging wrestlers, posting individual and team scores during meets, assisting coaches, and taping mats.

All the Matmaids were appreciated by both wrestlers and spectators for their contributions to making a successful wrestling season.

Batons add sparkle

The Lincoln High Baton Corps gained a new look with sophomores, Mary Bullard and Becky Taylor. The girls performed in a variety of different ways during the football season and at pep assemblies. Each have taken lessons for five years and their instructor, Jane Penn, was always there helping with new ideas. "The highlight of our year was performing at the Hoover game at Vet's Auditorium in front of so many people," said Mary Bullard.

Difficulties arose, but the squad was able to work them out and pull together. The girls marched with the band during football season and participated in spring parades. They also had a spaghetti dinner and teepeed various players' houses during Homecoming.

December 4, the Drill Team traveled to Ankeny for the Miss Drill Team of Iowa Pageant, receiving second place honors. Four girls competed individually and all finished in the top ten. Seniors Sue Lang and Becky Schmaltz received sixth and fifth place, while Junior Rhonda Kilgore received third; and Junior Tami Miller was awarded first runner-up Miss Drill Team.

"Once the girls learned to work together and take criticism without offense, it turned out to be a great year," said Sponsor Linda Ritland.

Successful year for Bands

Hard practice and skill made this year a success for the band and Director Dennis Dowell.

Teamed with Batons, Drill Team and Flags, Marching Band gave enthusiastic support to sports events. The Band's halftime presentations were combinations of old and new tunes, all set to exciting routines. In addition, they marched in various parades and competed in marching band competition held at Creston, where they received a II rating.

Small groups provide entertainment

Highlighting the year for Wind ensemble was a trip to the large group contest, while many Orchestra members participated in the state solo and ensemble contest. Along with competing in large group contest, Wind ensemble performed for the school in the fall, winter and spring programs. Two harps were added to add musical variety.

The orchestra, directed by Mrs. Sandra Tatge, was small in number but great in spirit. They practiced many hours at school for their performances, as well as many additional hours at home for competitions.

Because of the small number, professional players were asked to perform with them. According to Mrs. Tatge this helped the orchestra by giving the music a fuller effect.

Jazz Band has had a very active year, competing in three contests, the South Central Iowa Bandmasters Association, December 4, the Hoover Jazz Band festival March 5, and the Middland Jazz festival at Midland College in April.

Along with competing at the festivals, the band also attended clinics and listened to various concerts. Studying the different aspects of playing jazz was one of their main purposes.

The year ended with a school performance April 21. They played different types of songs ranging from the 40s to the present. The members consisted of seven seniors, five juniors, and seven sophomores, under the direction of Mr. Dennis Dowell.

Swing Choir holds winning tradition

The Swing Choir gave both a fall and a spring show. Other performances included numerous conventions, guest appearances at competitions, and many other "gigs" around the state.

The members of Swing Choir started their school days at 7 a.m. with an hour of rehearsal. Officers were Seniors Joe Joyce, president and Sheila Cherry, vice president.

All of Swing Choir's equipment and expenses were paid for with money earned from performances.

Swing Machine's (formerly Swing II) highlight of the year was winning second place trophy at the Creston Competition in February.

It has been an exciting year for the Swing Machine. They have performed at several places around the state, including Mount Pleasant and Cedar Rapids, where they gave their wholehearted support to the Swing Choir at the Kennedy competition.

School concerts were held by the Swing Machine at Christmas and in the spring with the Jazz Band. The spring concert was held at McCombs Junior High because of their unique acoustics. This was the first time that the Jazz Band has performed with the Swing Machine. It was also the first school concert not held at Lincoln.

Mr. Richard Baber directs the choir which is made up entirely of juniors and sophomores. They meet everyday for practice in the band room sixth hour. Mr. Baber feels that a wider range of experiences were offered to the Swing Machine.

Unique staging is an important part of the group's performance. The choir is arranged in different positions on octagonal boxes made especially for them.

A cappella strives for excellence

Mrs. Carol Stewart directed the choir at the Christmas concert, Bankers Life, the WHO Christmas party, the Spring concert, and junior high promotionals. They also competed in the large group contest.

A cappella joined Concert Choir in fund raising activities such as selling fruit, candy bars, jewelry, notebooks, jerseys, and several paper drives. The money they earned went toward financing their spring trip with Concert Choir to Chicago. On this trip A cappella viewed the treasures of King Tut's tomb, and saw the Broadway production of "The Wiz."

A cappella sings many songs that are too difficult for most high school choirs, and which are usually sung by college choirs.

Concert Choir takes tour to Chicago

Concert Choir began efforts early in the year to prepare for a spring tour. Numerous activities, such as selling BLH memberships, candy, cheese, fruit, jewelry and notebooks, collecting papers and holding a disco mixer, were planned to provide the necessary funds.

Chicago was decided as the destination and the tour was to last four days, beginning with participation in Large-Group competition. Included in the trip were several concerts at both churches and schools and visits to many famous cultural and scenic spots not available in Iowa.

In addition to the tour, Concert Choir gave concerts at junior highs and held a Christmas Concert, complete with candlelight effects. The group participated in a Spring Concert and sang at Senior Commencement activities.

Pep assemblies cheer 'em on!

Pep assemblies proved a big asset to sports events this year. The faculty aroused spirit when they performed a skit at the "Beat Dowling" assembly. Sophomores, improved over past years, showed great spirit presenting a threat to the juniors and seniors when deciding on who was the "most rowdy."

Lincoln Art Players take State

An award of "outstanding" and State Honors were earned by Jim Hanson, John Hoffman, Dan Reeves, and Ed McClure for their group mime, Hockey. As outstanding achievers, those boys were able to attend the Super State Show and Banquet in Indianola.

In February, the Lincoln Art Players, under the direction of Mr. Denis Hildreth, traveled to Missouri Valley for the Large Group Speech Contest and brought home not only an outstanding award for Hockey, but first place ratings for a duet, The Bald Soprano; a readers theatre Electra; and two solos, Survival, and Battle of the Bulge.

KISS ME KATE

The production of "Kiss Me Kate," taken from Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew," was presented March 20-22. Joe Joyce and Diane Maxwell portrayed the lead characters, Petruchio and Katherine, while the second lead was played by Mark Morrison and Dena Wilson as Lucentio and Bianca.

The cast of 54 members was directed by Mr. Denis Hildreth and Mrs. Carol Stewart, with Mr. Dennis Dowell directing the pit orchestra.

Choreography directors Helen Lutz and Jan Schissel and costume designers Lila Kline and Anita Micich dedicated much of their time and talent to the production.

Student directors David Jessen, Ed McClure, Connie Newton, Rhonda Rice, Ken Reisman and Penne Wallace assisted all of the directors and the cast. Over 150 people were involved in the production.

Drama Department stages melodrama

The fall play, "Lily The Felon's Daughter", was a musical melodrama, complete with the purest heroine, truest hero, most rotten villian and a host of comic characters.

The story is centered around Lily and her love for Compton who is led astray by Craven Sinclair and is destined for a life of gambling. To make the play a true melodrama, Lily's real father shows up and tries to claim her as his long lost child which really complicates the plot, but eventually leads to a happy ending.

Cast members for the play were Lily, Melissa Knauer, Michelle Berard as Betsy, Greg Kline as Compton, Dennis Jantz as Jonas, Ken Hammer as Craven Sinclair, Lisa Hollett as Ophelia, Ed McClure as Robin Steel, Sue Fucaloro as Mrs. Kingsley, Jennifer Dudley as Marie, Doug Craig as Lord Montmorency, and Gina Nicolino in the role of Mrs. Bloodgood.

Peer counselors aid students

Peer counselors started the year by attending a two-day workshop in October. They also gave a presentation of Lincoln's peer counseling program to the Iowa Personnel and Guidance Association.

Other achievements were organizing an activity center group at the YMCA, and visiting tenth grade homerooms to make sophomores feel at home.

The peer counselors worked together with the counselors and learned much from this experience. They held local workshops to pass on information to others who were interested in learning.

Members included Chairman Sarah Cardamone, senior; and Recorder Renee Fleming, junior. Other senior members included Katrina Colosimo, Pam Conner, Cheri Finch, Ray Hut, and Teresa Miller.

Sponsoring a canned food drive and donating toys to children in low-income families at Christmas were a few of the Council's activities.

Students gain work experience

DECA, a national program offered to high school students, provided students with an opportunity to learn while gaining on-the-job experience. Approximately 40 students, divided into first and second year classes, participated in the program.

To begin the year, four members attended a delegate assembly in Ames for two days. On February 8 an area conference was held at Valley West Mall at which all eight metro schools were represented. A state conference was also held in March with representatives from 78 schools. Completing the year's activities was an employer-employee banquet.

Throughout the year DECA members also participated in a variety of fund raising activities to support their activities and to pay for the gift which they presented to the school. Buttons, candy, Lincoln pennants, and metal social security cards were a few of the projects.

Participation is the key to Dorian Art

Dorian Art Club added color to the school by decorating for Homecoming, Christmas, and making football signs.

Initiation was held last spring to welcome 19 new juniors and seniors into the club. Randy Karnes was elected president, Leslie Benda secretary, Carla Tibboel treasurer, and Lorrie Conrath historian.

Shirts were purchased carrying an Artjock motto. These were designed by Randy Karnes.

Girls Club brightens the year

Girls Club, under the leadership of Senior Cindy Osborn, worked hard to promote activities that benefited both the community and the school.

To start the year the traditional Big Sister-Little Sister picnic was held to welcome incoming sophomore girls. Other activities included a Halloween party for underprivileged children, a Christmas play at Howe Elementary School, and an Easter party at the Day Care Center.

As a service to the school, Girls Club sold Buzz Books. To conclude the year the officers arranged a pizza party for all the members.

Seniors Pam Connor and Albert Alvarez enjoy a dinner party at the Drawbridge.

President Lisa Hollett, Vice-President Gail Riordan, Secretary Pam Connor, Treasurer Theresa Martinez, and Sponsor Maria Creagh planned various Spanish functions to enable members to learn about cultures of other countries.

The orientation cook-out in September gave new members a chance to get acquainted. Halloween followed in October with a costumed Spanish fiesta. Thanksgiving was celebrated at Felix and Oscars, and the Feliz Navidad taco dinner was held in December. Valentines Day was celebrated formally at the Drawbridge.

Senior class members experienced a taste of Mexico when they went to dinner at El Patio. Third and fourth year members ended the year with a swimming party in May.

The Bicentennial brought many new and exciting changes. It was the year of the Olympics, the presidential election, and of many new fads and fashions.

Lincoln held a mock election, similar to the national election, November 2. The results were printed in the Railsplitter.

As the new year rolled in, so did the new fads and fashions. Gauchos, tunics, and Frye boots hit the scene for many girls.

The TV program, Charlie's Angels, made popular the Farrah Fawcett look. The TV special Roots, viewed for eight consecutive nights, sparked increased awareness of the black struggle and an interest in geneology.

Evergreen and Walk This Way climbed to the top on the KIOA Listing. Beth, recorded by Kiss, sent Kiss to the top.

Warm welcome for exchange student

Lincoln welcomed one foreign exchange student, Renata Galbinski from Porto Alegre, Brazil. She stayed at the home of Senior Stephanie Wedemeier and was placed in classes according to her interests. Renata stayed for five months, was graduated, and received her diploma along with the other seniors.

Computer Club

What can a newly installed computer in room 124 do without a club to run it? Mr. Tom Rowly, sponsor, figured out the obvious answer to this question and established the Computer Club for all students who were interested in the new machine.

The club went from studying the basics to working with Roosevelt in making new programs and games. The computer is connected to a terminal at Drake University and information is sent to Lincoln by typing the word "hello" and sending back the secret password.

"The thing I like best about this computer is that I can go deep into subjects and learning at a very little cost," commented President John Hoffman.

Radio Club airs their own show

Radio Club, a newly formed group, aired a half-hour show every Wednesday and Friday. The program, planned by the club, included school news and music. Club members took turns acting as disc jockies and running controls.

Radio Club was inspired by the club at Valley. Interested students gathered together, found a sponsor and arranged for space on station KDPS, 80.1 FM.

"Radio Jock" jerseys were purchased by the members. Officers were Paul Stanard, chairman; Scott Ramsey, vice-chairman; and Mike Perkins, secretary. Club sponsors were Mr. Paul Dupey and Mr. Tom Rowley.

After several months of review under the direction of Mr. Gary Bagby, Math Club traveled to Creighton University for their annual Field Day.

Field Day events included a marathon where problems were flashed on a screen and emphasis was on speed; a leap frog involving two people, each working on separate tests, then switching tests at the end of the first time limit; and a chalk talk in which an individual explained mathematical principles.

Observing the Bankers Life computer and participating in the national math test were other activities that occupied the club's time.

Hospitality Club offers service

Serving as ushers or helping visitors find their way around Lincoln were the main tasks of Hospitality Club. The only requirement for membership in the club was free time and a "helping hand." Open House and Adult Education classes were served by the club. Sponsor Mrs. Dorothy Oakman commented, "The group is not as active as those in previous years since many groups now supply their own hosts."

Although there were no regular meetings or club officers the club has been active for many years.

CARE Club benefits others through social services

Helping others feel better about themselves is what CARE Club is all about. "It also helps students know whether they want to go into the social professions," commented club sponsor Mrs. RaeGene Robbins.

Although the club is relatively small in number, it is very active. holding monthly meetings. President Paula Steinbeck and District President Renee Birdsall helped to organize club activities. Visiting a local nursing home and giving an Easter party for grade schoolers highlighted the year. In March the Student Educational Services district convention was hosted by CARE Club.

Letterwinners excel in athletics

Student dedication in various sports programs such as baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, gymnastics, softball, swimming, tennis, track and wrestling was awarded with the presentation of letters.

Students forfeit free hours

Students forfeited their study halls to donate time and services to the counselors, nurses, and main offices, as well as the library and Student Center.

Taking calls and delivering phone messages, recording student bus coupons, collecting absence slips, and checking students through the nurse and counselors were duties performed by various office volunteers.

Library student assistants were responsible for shelving books, clipping for files, checking out books and working in the periodical room. Other students assisted in the sale of food in the Student Center.

Under the direction of Mr. Alex Pritchard, debaters proved to be tough opposition. Prison reform was chosen as the major issue and the debate team displayed the necessary knowledge and fluency to argue the issue.

To begin the season each team member devoted several hours to intense research on the chosen topic—finding both the pros and cons involved. Debaters then transferred this knowledge to a note card file for reference throughout the year. This information was used to support the side of the issue to be argued.

Co-op stresses business skills

Office Education Association, under the direction of Miss Janice Abarr, gives students the chance to work while attending school. They gain experience in learning the trade that interests them. OEA gives the student the opportunity to view the outside world along with gaining knowledge in their own field.

Eleven of the 18 Lincoln students placed in the OEA contest held February 15 at the American Institute of Business. Those receiving first place honors from Lincoln were Seniors Carrie Beardsly, Sue Lane, and Junior Rich Tassin.

"I feel that OEA has helped me a lot in trying to decide about my future. I urge all people interested in business to join," said Senior Jody DeCarlo.

Senior Karen Myers (right) commented, "I learned a great deal from the OEA program and I feel that working in OEA has been beneficial."

The experience and knowledge they receive from working in the business world helps those students to decide their future plans. Students participating in the program receive full school credit with no cost for experience. Only seniors and juniors are able to work for a semester while attending school.

Mr. Else recommends this course to students with specific careers in mind.

Synchronized team goes Hollywood

To much dismay, the synchronized swimming team had to change its name from Mermaids to the Synchronized Pageant in order to comply with Title IX.

The synchronized show was performed on March 10, 11, and 12 under the leadership of Mrs. Jean Frazier, sponsor; Pam Mulcahy, president; Kym Erickson, vice-president; Paula Tursi, secretary; Amy Amend, treasurer; Leslie Benda, art director; and Anna Bridgford, publicity director. Spikers initiate new sport; play power volleyball

Lincoln added to their athletic program this year by introducing a girls volleyball team. The team was coached by Miss Cheri Mortice. Miss Mortice stated, "It was really an exciting challenge because volleyball is such a new sport. I was working with athletes who had never played power volleyball before."

The team was led by Brenda Rice, senior, who was rated in the top 20 in the state for average number of points scored per game.

Jill Macy, senior, was consistently rated in the state's top 20 for serving percentage. Top defensive player was Senior Debbie Snyder.

The biggest upset was over Hoover who has had a volleyball team for six years. Overall match record for girls volleyball was 4-9, including district action.

Girls Cross Country

Young team has winning record

Girls Cross Country team participated in a number of invitationals across the state, according to Coach Phillip Martin. The team traveled to Ames, Marshalltown, Urbandale, Adel and Valley.

In Metro action the girls finished with a winning record of 6-5 for fourth place. At Districts the team lost its return bid to State by finishing ninth out of 33 teams.

Darci Boyd, senior captain, led the pack by setting the best time to date for a two mile course at Ewing Park with an amazing 12:38.

Darci's leadership will be missed next year, but with juniors like Chris Frankels, Linda Weberg and Cindy Enslow to set the pace, Lincoln should finish high in the Metro.

Lincoln qualified for the 4A state football playoffs for the first time in the four year history of the competition. Matched against number one rated Sioux City Heelan, the Rails proved to be a top contender for the crown.

Playing in bitter cold at Sioux City, the Gridders battled to a 14-14 tie at the half. Second half mistakes cost the Rails the victory with the score ending up 36-20 in favor of Heelan.

The Railsplitters finished second in the Metro with a 5-2 mark, 7-3 overall. The Huskies of Hoover up ended the Rails with a 14-7 victory. With the loss it seemed as if, for the second year in a row, the Gridders had been deprived of the playoffs. But with key victories from Metro teams in the last week of the season, the Railsplitters were the eighth team to qualify for state.

Coach McClanahan commented that even though the team was small they moved the ball well.

Quarterback Todd Hankins led the team, along with fine players like Jerry Clingman, Paul Duffy, Bob Harper and Dowell Rankel.

Continue domination

Rails win fourth Metro crown

The Railsplitters won their fourth straight Metropolitan Conference title, finishing with a 13-1 record in Metro play and a 17-1 record overall. This was the fifth title in Coach John Carle's sixth year at Lincoln.

Accepting leadership for the Rails were Senior Guards Bob Umdenstock and Kirby Van Nausdle. Providing the scoring punch was the Metro's leading scorer, Senior Frank Smith, who averaged 30 points an outing for the number one ranked Railsplitters.

The Cagers' only loss occurred on December 21 against crosstown rival Hoover. The Huskies were able to connect on 31 of 35 freethrows to give them a thrilling 81-80 victory.

After losing to Hoover, the Rails were invincible. What was supposed to be a close game against highly rated non-conference Urbandale, turned out to be a run away victory for Lincoln, 96-51.

In the second meeting with Hoover, the Rails controlled the game from the outset, and finished on top 81-76 before an estimated crowd of 8,500 at Vets.

Rails whip Ankeny, earn State berth

For the second time in three years, Lincoln advanced to State Tournament action.

The Rails got to substate by defeating Tech and Hoover in district play.

The Rails were placed against Ankeny in substate action. The two teams exchanged the lead several times in the first half, but in the third quarter the Rails took control and went on to an easy 77-51 victory.

Senior Frank Smith, who averaged 30 points a game in regular season play, was named to first team all-Metro along with Bob Umdenstock, senior guard.

Iowa City ends hope for State Title

In a battle which many felt was "the game" of the 1977 Boys State Tournament, the Iowa City West-Lincoln game lived up to its press clippings, and more.

Before an estimated crowd of 14,000, Iowa City West ousted Lincoln from the tournament with a 70-62 victory at Vets Auditorium.

Iowa City led for most of the first half, but Lincoln stormed back within two points at the halftime, 32-30.

The Railsplitters took their only lead of the game in the third quarter, 34-32. Iowa City continued to dominate the battle of the boards during the remainder of the second half as the Rails found themselves in a cold shooting streak.

The Railsplitters finished their season with an over-all record of 20 wins and two losses, including their fourth straight Metropolitan Conference title.

Kirby Van Nausdle leaps high for two.

It looks as if Lincoln will continue to dominate basketball in the Metro Conference if the 1976-77 sophomore basketball team record is any indication of what is to come.

The sophomores finished first in the Metro with a record of 16-2. This was the second Metro title in three years for Coach Jerry Schartner.

Scoring leaders for the young Rails were Guy Neff and Steve Karnes, both averaging 18 points a game.

The team broke many team records including best offensive average, 79.5, best shooting percentage, 49.2%, and most points scored in one season, 1431.

Coach Schartner said, "I'm very pleased with this year's team. They evened the 73-74 team record, which is the best in my 11 years of coaching."

Girls nab first Sectional title

"Girls Metro Basketball was balanced this year for the first time in its five year history. A team could not expect to play poorly against a weak team and still win. This was indicated by the close scores among Metro teams," said Coach Phil Martin.

The girls outplayed their opponents in most games for almost the entire game, only to lose some heartbreaker games in the last few minutes.

Lincoln girls captured their first sectional basketball championship with an 82-70 win over Carlisle. Balanced scoring was the key to victory in both the championship game and the semi-final game over Dowling.

According to Coach Martin, the season could be summed up with a comment made to the coaches by some fans, "Win or lose, the girls were exciting to watch this year."

Stacy McArthur leaves Valley in awe as she drives for two in the lane.

The girls' sophomore basketball team gained valuable experience as they finished Metro play with seven wins and seven losses (8-10 overall), placing in a tie for third in the conference. "It was really a super season. We worked hard and we won some games, but most of all we learned to play as a team," Guard Renee Scott commented .

On the offensive end of the court the team averaged 48 points per game, while in the guard court the Railsplitter defense allowed just 52 points per game. Guard Pam Sufka said, "This year we got off to a bad start but then we really started to work hard. Once we did this, we started to show ourselves on the floor. We won a lot of our games, and we turned out to be a better team."

Coach Jerry Atkinson said of the team, "The team showed excellent progress during the season, rebounding from five straight early season losses to defeat the Metro Conference leaders late in the year."

Hockey team glides to best season

Lincoln's hockey team joined forces with Southeast Polk, Urbandale and Valley to capture a 5-3 record in Division 2 competition.

Two year hockey players from Lincoln were Dennis Clair, Bruce Coughenhower, Harry Cramer, Brian Leopold, Bob Srohn, Steve Powers and Tim Preuninger.

Coach Ron Nagurski stated that he hoped interest in hockey would increase even though Lincoln has strong basketball and wrestling programs occurring during the same season.

Pledges collected from sponsors will help pay for equipment used by both waterpolo teams and swimmers.

Boys teams played three Metro teams, Hoover, Valley, and Roosevelt.

The team should be strong next year with only six members graduating.

Lisa Pointer, Michelle Price, Tammy Randleman and Beth Theormer were only a few of the outstanding players of the girls' water polo team. The girls are looking forward to attending National competition, May 20 held in Chicago.

Tammy Randleman commented that her and her teammates are looking forward to upcoming meets and hopefully beating Hoover. The girls also participated in breaking the world record.

The team travels to Dubuque and Sioux City to play tougher competition to get ready for sectional and district play with the hopes of state qualifiers.

VISIONS

Sophomores number 780

Sophomores found themselves becoming more involved in activities as the school year progressed. Many chose to participate in sports while others snatched a role in the school play. Mr. Kent's homeroom 232 and Mrs. Griffin's homeroom 226 showed their participation by collecting over 150 cans of food for the Thanksgiving canned food drive.

To help avoid the confusion sophomores were assigned big brothers and sisters during orientation to give them a tour of Lincoln.

"I'm looking forward to my next two years at Lincoln. I love it," commented Sophomore Kelly Larsen.

Sophomores demonstrate their class spirit by yelling "we're number one."

Junior activites highlight year

They can let out their breath . . . they're Juniors! They have faced the agony of being a sophomore, yet they are not burdened with the decisions and responsibilities of the seniors.

As a junior, a student has his first chance to really get involved in school activities. He knows what is expected of him and is able to prepare for the future with confidence.

Many juniors feel that their biggest assets of this year are, "more privileges" and "a better party life." However, Junior Don St. John summed it all up by saying, "You're more in the middle of everyone because you're close to the seniors and to the sophomores."

Visions of yesterday explode as seniors cling to the memories of a year gone by . . .

The Class of '77 concluded the year with a variety of activities. They assembled at the Echo Valley Country Club on May 12 for the Senior Banquet. Then on May 14, dressed in formals and tuxedos, they arrived at the Riviera Ballroom for the Prom. The music was provided by The Velvetones.

And those who were able to survive finals checked out on May 19, but went back again on May 20 for Class Day.

At 3 p.m. on May 22, the Class of '77 celebrated the completion of their high school career with the Commencement Ceremony at Veterans Auditorium.

Brenda Elaine Crawford
1958-1976

MY FRIEND

As I sit here looking up into the silent night, I think of you my friend.

Overhead, I know, hanging gracefully over us, are thousands of white faces.

Those gleaming eyes, glowing with love, peace and tranquility, there with vast wings across the skies, are reaching out, out to the good, leading us one by one into eternal bliss.

The good shall go first as you my friend have proven.

I cry, but these are not tears of grief, I cry for I am happy in my heart that you have found the light.

Miss you? Yes, my friend, but this is not good-bye my friend. I, like all your friends, shall join you in good time if God so wills it.

Fear not for you shall never walk alone, no, never for the love in my heart, the hearts of all your friends, and most of all God's love, shall be with you always.

And as you climb those golden stairs and look upon us, Remember my friend, as we do you . . . . .

DRAKE

Going away to college?
Go away to Drake.

That's right, Drake University! Come to Drake and live on campus. Think about the advantages . . . . on your own but close enough to home for "emergencies" like borrowing the car or replenishing the bank account at a moment's notice. Think about the advantage you have over the out-of-towners who don't know the ins-and-outs of your hometown.

Think about the educational advantages at Drake. A degree from Drake means a head-start on your career. There's a lot more happening between Forest and University than you realize. Stop by and let's talk about going away to Drake. If you're in a hurry, call us at 271-3181.

Drake University admits students without regard to sex, race, color and national or ethnic origin.

YOUNKERS
SATISFACTION ALWAYS

As part of Younkers firm belief in the young people of today, a program is offered each year for the Des Moines area schools . . . TEEN BOARD for junior and senior girls and ADVISORY BOARD for junior and senior boys. These young people selected to represent their schools, are chosen for leadership qualities, high scholastic standings, personal recommendations from school administrators and evaluation from members of the retiring boards, plus their ability and interest in retail and fashion. They participate in special fashion shows during the year, give talks in their schools and to other groups on good grooming, publish a monthly newsletter and work in various junior departments each Saturday. Younkers salutes the representatives from LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL for a job very well done.
